UNRUH TURNER BURKE & FREES

ATTORNEYS AT LAW

Litigation

Our experienced and seasoned litigation attorneys represent individuals, families, businesses, property owners, fiduciaries, creditors, and other clients in a broad range of contested matters.

Our litigation team includes seasoned trial attorneys who are prepared to advocate aggressively when necessary, whether in court, in arbitration, in administrative proceedings, or in other dispute-resolution settings. At the same time, we recognize that litigation should be approached with sound judgment, practical perspective, and careful attention to cost, and we work to pursue strategies that are both effective and efficient in light of each client's goals.

In developing litigation strategies, our attorneys work with lawyers throughout the firm who are experienced in other disciplines and draw upon that broader knowledge to address not only the dispute itself, but also the underlying legal, financial, business, family, or property issues driving the matter.

We understand that litigation is often stressful, disruptive, and time-sensitive. Our attorneys pride themselves on responding promptly to clients' needs, maintaining open lines of communication, and pursuing the most efficient and cost-effective means of achieving our clients' objectives.

Why Choose Unruh Turner Burke & Frees?

Experienced and Seasoned Trial Attorneys: Our Litigation Group is staffed by experienced litigators and seasoned trial attorneys who are prepared to handle sophisticated disputes and, when necessary, present those matters effectively in court.

Practical and Cost-Effective Approach: We understand that litigation can be disruptive and expensive, and we work to identify strategies that protect our clients' interests while remaining practical, efficient, and mindful of cost.

Strategic Advocacy: Effective litigation requires more than aggressive advocacy alone. Our attorneys evaluate the strengths, risks, timing, and practical realities of each case in order to pursue the best path forward, whether through negotiation, motion practice, trial, or appeal.

Cross-Disciplinary Insight: Because many disputes arise from underlying business, family, criminal, fiduciary, construction, or real estate issues, our litigation attorneys work closely with lawyers across the firm to develop informed and practical strategies.

Our Litigation Practice Groups Include:

- Construction Litigation
- Consumer Fraud and Business Misrepresentation Litigation
- Creditor's Rights & Bankruptcy
- Crime Victims Advocacy
- Criminal Defense
- Employment Law
- Family Law
- Land Use & Zoning Litigation
- Orphans' Court & Estate Litigation
- Real Estate Litigation

Contact the Litigation Group at Unruh Turner Burke & Frees

Disputes rarely come in neat categories, and effective litigation strategy depends on the subject matter, the forum, the timing, and the client's objectives. Our Litigation Group works with clients to evaluate their legal position, assess the practical realities of the dispute, and pursue a strategy designed to protect their interests efficiently and effectively.

If you are involved in a contested legal matter, Unruh Turner Burke & Frees is prepared to assist. Contact our office to discuss your matter with an attorney in our Litigation Group.

Litigation Lawyers

Brian D. Boreman
James C. Dalton
John K. Fiorillo
Jeremy Grivensky
Ryan M. Jennings
Kristen Wetzel Ladd
Daniel S. LePera
Lauren A. Nehra
Amanda M.V. Grant
Daniel J. Yarnall

Related Articles

Litigation Blog